

At TransAct, Inc. we understand you may have privacy concerns, so we have instituted policies intended to ensure any personal information you convey to us is handled safely and responsibly as defined herein.

As a National Distributor we may share information we collect online as supplied by you with others. By using this Site, you are agreeing thereto and agreeing to our ownership of said Personal Information. For purposes herein "Personal Information" means any information submitted to us via the Site by which you can be personally identified including your name, address, contact number, e-mail address, etc. Our web servers automatically recognize such information and we may use a technology called "cookies." The use of cookies shows how our customers navigate through our website and thus allows us to make our site more tailored to your needs.

It is our Company's policy to maintain all Personal Information as confidential except as may be necessary to fulfill a function listed below:

- for the specific purpose for which it was volunteered (for example, to complete a product purchase or process a return)
- to contact you about the status of your orders
- to notify you of product recalls or provide other information concerning products you purchased
- to improve the content, appearance and utility of the Site
- to track your visits and use of the Site for internal research purposes
- to contact you to participate in market research
- to notify our visitors of updates to the Site
- to send catalogs, printed materials, offers and other announcements to an address provided and to allow our sister companies and reputable third parties to do the same to e-mail offers, announcements or newsletters to your e-mail address and to allow our sister companies to do the same.

Additionally, we may disclose information upon governmental request or if required to do so by law or based on our good faith belief that it is necessary to conform to or comply with the law or is necessary to protect the users of our Site.

For your convenience, our website may contain links to other websites. When you use a link to go from our Site to another website, this Privacy Policy Statement is no longer in effect. We are not responsible for the privacy practices employed by websites linked to or from our Site nor for the information or content contained therein.

We reserve the right, at our discretion, to change, modify, add or remove portions of this Privacy Policy Statement at any time and will post said policy changes herein and your continued use of this Site thereafter means that you accept those changes and will be guided thereby.
